VOLUME VIII  NUMBER 1
Dear Partners and Friends,

2014 started with a bang! Charis Bible College (CBC) moved into their new home on January 6, and on March 22, we welcomed hundreds of people to the Grand Opening Celebration of our new CBC campus in Woodland Park. Phase I, The Barn, is complete, thanks to your faithful giving, and we are looking forward to breaking ground on Phase II shortly. Please check out the “Grand Opening” article in this issue. You’ll be blessed by the story of how one person’s faithfulness played a big part in making The Sanctuary project a reality.

You’ll also be encouraged by all the testimonies peppered throughout this issue. Your faithful support of this ministry is helping set people free from things like chronic disease, religious thinking, and even atheism. We’ve also included an excerpt from my new book, Lessons from David, which highlights that God is faithful even when we aren’t faithful.

Let me mention my new online video broadcast as well, The Inside Story. Each episode features a behind-the-scenes look at some of the lesser-known, but essential, inner workings of Andrew Wommack Ministries. I really want you to know all the awesome things the Lord is doing here. And be sure to check out the article about what I consider to be my best-kept secret!

Finally, this year, for the first time, we will be hosting the Summer Family Bible Conference at The Barn. We have a great week planned for the whole family. Jamie and I hope you’ll join us at what has become a favorite summer event for many families. We look forward to seeing you soon and showing you around the new facility.

You are blessed,

Andrew and Jamie
Whatever problem you’re facing today, whether in your finances, in your health, in your marriage, or any other area, your problem is not in your circumstances. Most people think that if they could just get a certain situation worked out, or changed in their favor, they would experience true victory—everything would be all right. But that isn’t so. You don’t get victory from the outside first. It has to first come from the inside!

Most Christians have heard the story of David defeating Goliath, but have they applied these same principles to their giants? One of the foundational truths that enabled him to face this giant was that he viewed the whole situation through God’s covenant:

What shall be done to the man that killeth this Philistine, and taketh away the reproach from Israel? for who is this uncircumcised Philistine, that he should defy the armies of the living God?

1 Samuel 17:26

David’s reference to Goliath being uncircumcised was pointing out that Goliath didn’t have any covenant rights like David did. In fact, every Israelite soldier was one of God’s covenant people, but they didn’t act like it! Likewise, all true believers have covenant rights to health, prosperity, joy, and peace, but not all look at their circumstances through their covenant.

Those Israelite soldiers were looking at Goliath and not at God’s promises. The Lord had promised them that no man would be able to stand before them (Deut. 11:25). Goliath was a man. He was a big man but a man nonetheless. While others only saw the giant, David kept his attention on the promises of God.

When David voiced his faith in the covenant of God more than what he saw, he began to be criticized by his brother and others:

And Eliah his eldest brother heard when he spake unto the men; and Eliah’s anger was kindled against David, and he said, Why camest thou down hither? and with whom hast thou left those few sheep in the wilderness? I know thy pride, and the naughtiness... of thine heart; for thou art come down that thou mightest see the battle. [29] And David said, What have I now done? Is there not a cause? [30] And he turned from him toward another, and spake after the same manner: and the people answered him again after the former manner.

1 Samuel 17:28-30

David could have tried to justify himself to his brother. It was at his father’s command that he had left the sheep and come to bring gifts to his brothers. But even if David had won the argument, he would have lost his opportunity to defeat Goliath. It was only after he turned from his brother and repeated his statements of faith that someone heard what he said and told Saul, the Israelite king.

You might face opposition, even from family members, when you start communicating what God has put in your heart, but you need to take this stance like David did, saying, “Is there not a cause?” Ask yourself, “Is the thing I want victory over worth fighting for?” If it is, then you have a cause greater than what others think.

Even the king tried to talk David out of what was in his heart: He spoke of David’s inexperience and size compared to Goliath. Many want to win against the giants when the grandstands are full, but few will be faithful in the little things God gives them when no one is watching. If we aren’t faithful in that which is least, we won’t be given more (Luke 16:10-12).

David’s faith and confidence in the Lord convinced King Saul to let him represent Israel and go fight Goliath. This was a miracle in itself. If David lost, then all the Israelites would become slaves to the Philistines. I think Saul recognized the anointing of God upon David. Saul had once operated under that anointing. He knew how powerful it was. So, he let David go, but he tried to put his armor on him first.

Next, David had to endure the mockery of his enemy, Goliath. Listen to what the giant said:

Lessons from David

All true believers have covenant rights to health, prosperity, joy, and peace, but not all look at their circumstances through their covenant.

You might face opposition when you start communicating what God has put in your heart, but you have a cause greater than what others think.

Notice that David began to rehearse to the king the victories the Lord had given him. Had he not been faithful with the few sheep the Lord had given him to keep on the backside of the desert, he never would have been able to stand up to Goliath. Many want to win against the giants when the grandstands are full, but few will be faithful in the little things God gives them when no one is watching. If we aren’t faithful in that which is least, we won’t be given more (Luke 16:10-12).

David’s faith and confidence in the Lord convinced King Saul to let him represent Israel and go fight Goliath. This was a miracle in itself. If David lost, then all the Israelites would become slaves to the Philistines. I think Saul recognized the anointing of God upon David. Saul had once operated under that anointing. He knew how powerful it was. So, he let David go, but he tried to put his armor on him first.

This happens all the time. People will tell you your faith in God won’t overcome your giants. But if you persist, then they will try to give you their advice on how to fight the battle. That’s what Saul did. He wanted to give David his armor. But why should David put his faith in Saul’s armor? It hadn’t done anything for Saul. Saul was fearful of Goliath just like all the rest. David was wise to stick with what had already been proven in his life.

Next, David had to endure the mockery of his enemy, Goliath. Listen to what the giant said:
And when the Philistine looked about, and saw David, he disdained him; for he was but a youth, and ruddy, and of a fair countenance. [43] And the Philistine said unto David, Am I a dog, that thou comest to me with staves? And the Philistine cursed David by his gods. [44] And the Philistine said to David, Come to me, and I will give thy flesh unto the fowls of the air, and to the beasts of the field.

1 Samuel 17:42-44

Don’t think that just because you’re armed with what God has given you, the giants in your life will be intimidated by you. You’ve got to be bold and stand strong in the face of the enemy, like David did:

Then said David to the Philistine, Thou comest to me with a sword, and with a spear, and with a shield: but I come to thee in the name of the Lord of hosts, the God of the armies of Israel, whom thou hast defied. [46] This day will the Lord deliver thee into mine hand; and I will smite thee, and take thine head from thee; and I will give the carcases of the host of the Philistines this day unto the fowls of the air, and to the wild beasts of the earth; that all the earth may know that there is a God in Israel. [47] And all this assembly shall know that the Lord saveth not with sword and spear: for the battle is the Lord’s, and he will give you into our hands.

1 Samuel 17:45-47

But David wasn’t all talk! Look what he did when Goliath approached him:

David hasted, and ran toward the army to meet the Philistine.

1 Samuel 17:48b

The Spirit of the Lord was on David—he wasn’t afraid! He rushed at this giant. You know, your attitude toward your giants will be very telling when it’s time to face them. If you really believe the promises of God, you won’t run from a fight; you will run to it. Do you really believe what God said or not? Are you all talk? The giants are going to test what God has put in you.

Of course, you know the story. David used his sling and a stone to bring the giant down. But David didn’t stop there.

But there was no sword in the hand of David. [51a] Therefore David ran, and stood upon the Philistine, and took his sword, and drew it out of the sheath thereof, and slew him, and cut off his head therewith.

1 Samuel 17:50b-51a

You’ve got to pursue your enemies until they can’t come back! If you read the whole story, the Philistines didn’t flee when Goliath first went down. They were at a far distance and didn’t know exactly what had happened. Goliath could have tripped, or maybe he was just wounded and would get back up and win yet. But when David cut off his head and held it up, all doubt was removed.

The giants in your life are actually great opportunities for God to show Himself strong on your behalf.

We sometimes just fight our enemies until they go over the hill. They are left to fight us another day. We only fight sickness until it gets to where it’s not too bad; we can live with the rest. But David pursued his enemies until they were destroyed. They could never come back to fight him. First Samuel 30:10-18 is a good example of this, where David pursued the Amalekites until he had recovered all he had lost.

People don’t like to face giants, but David wouldn’t have been a hero if he had slain a midget. The giants in your life are actually great opportunities for God to show Himself strong on your behalf. My greatest tests have become my greatest testimonies. If you don’t have a test, you only have a “mony.”

David’s victory over Goliath catapulted him into his destiny. Likewise, whatever giant you are facing can become the greatest victory in your life as you stand on God’s Word and overcome that giant. I remember when my son died. It was a terrible thing. But because Jamie and I stood against this giant that tried to take our son, we now have a glorious testimony of his resurrection, which we’ve rubbed the devil’s nose in countless times. Praise God! Your victory is coming too.

I encourage you to get my latest teaching about David. It not only includes all the things I’ve written about in this article, but it goes into much detail about his other victories and his defeats too. David was a man after God’s own heart. He had great highs but very low lows. He’s someone that all of us can relate to and learn from. It’s better to learn at his expense than from your own hard knocks.

I have a new book out entitled Lessons from David. You can also get this teaching on CD and DVD, and as a study guide for discipling others. I’ve seen many people’s lives changed by these truths. My own life has been changed. Yours will be too as you learn from David, so you can kill the giants in your life.

Everything that was written in the Old Testament is for our learning and admonition (1 Cor. 10:6 and 11). David, the only one in Scripture whom the Lord called a man after His own heart, is a tremendous example of triumph and failure. Learn from him, and you too can be a giant killer.

Healing Journey
Richard Waller seemed to have it all—at least by the world’s standards. Growing up as an only child with an alcoholic father, Richard learned to be self-sufficient at a young age, and he did quite well for himself. In his early twenties, he excelled as a competitive bodybuilder and worked as a bouncer in a local pub in the U.K. Because of his physique, it was suggested that he audition for the British version of the Chippendales, called the London Knights. He decided to give it a try, and he got the job.

Soon he was discovered by talent agents, which led to Richard traveling the world as a model, actor, and even stuntman! He was at the top of his game and loving life. But he was thrown a curve ball one fateful day when he met Jacqueline.

“I had gone to my hairdresser—who was a longtime friend—for a hair cut,” explains Richard. His hairdresser’s friend, Jacqueline, happened to be in the salon at the time. “I was looking at her, thinking, ‘Woah! She’s nice!’”

Jacqueline was also quite smitten by Richard. “When I first met Richard, I was very attracted to him. But… I was about a year into my walk with Jesus. I was trying to stay with what God wanted for my life.” And Jacqueline was not convinced that Richard was what God had in store for her.

Nevertheless, after Richard and Jacqueline’s first conversation that day in the hair salon, neither could deny the certain “spark” that they both felt for one another—a spark that caused much inner conflict for Jacqueline. “I didn’t think [a relationship with Richard] was right because of where he was [in his life],” she says. “But I just trusted God. I gave every day to God.”

Jacqueline finally decided to take a step of faith with Richard and see what God was up to. At the time, she had been attending the Alpha Course Bible studies for new believers. As time went by, Richard began noticing positive changes in Jacqueline each time she attended these studies.

One day, much to Jacqueline’s surprise, Richard decided to attend the Alpha meeting without her. At the Bible study, Richard offered the group a brief introduction of who he was and what he had accomplished in his life. Then, he was asked a question he had never been asked before—not even of himself: “So, how does all that make you feel?” Richard had no idea how to answer that question. He wasn’t really sure how he felt about his life or what he had become. Facing the truth of where he had been caused him to think even more about where he was headed.

Changing Kingdoms

“I have learned,” says Richard, “that if you truly want to see God, He won’t let you down. He’ll come to you in a way that’s appropriate for you.” That night at the Alpha Course, God came to Richard in a very dramatic fashion, literally shaking him to the core, letting him know that He and His Word are very real.

After Richard’s powerful salvation experience, Jacqueline noticed a nearly overnight change in his desires and behavior. Confident that Richard was part of God’s plan for her, Jacqueline accepted his proposal, and the two were soon married. Once again, Richard was on top of the world, but this time he was in God’s world. But, also once again, he was thrown a curve ball—this time from the Enemy, who was out to rob, kill, and destroy him.

Trouble began for Richard one day when he rescued his father from a serious fall. As he lifted his dad off the floor, Richard felt something in his lower back pop. He knew right away something was terribly wrong. What he didn’t know is that by the next day, his world would be completely changed.

Richard went from being perfectly healthy to not being able to comfortably sit, drive, walk, or continue living a normal life. Then, over time, his vertebrae began rubbing together, causing additional problems. A series of MRIs revealed that he had spina bifida, a deformity he has had since birth but was unaware of. His condition had caused a weakness in his spine, contributing to his injury.

Just like the woman in the Bible with the issue of blood (Luke 8:43-48), Richard went to many doctors and spent a lot of money, but there was still no relief from the pain. “The medical profession said I would be in a wheelchair by the time I was forty,” says Richard. All he believed he could do was take pills for his pain and get prayed for by well-meaning Christians.

Unfortunately, these well-meaning Christians were also misinformed Christians when it came to God’s Word concerning healing. Many in the church that Richard and Jacqueline were attending at the time...
believed that Richard’s sickness could be a part of God’s will for his life: “There was this idea [from the church] that if you were sick, it was God’s will,” explains Jacqueline, adding that some believed it was God’s way of taming Richard’s strong personality. “Deep down I didn’t believe this was God’s will for Richard, but that’s what we kept hearing.”

This mindset surrounding Richard caused him to start shying away from receiving prayer. In fact, he even stopped praying for himself, agreeing with others that his sickness might truly be God’s will for him.

Meanwhile, Richard’s condition continued to deteriorate. And then one morning, Satan struck again: “I woke up and my heart was pounding out of my chest, and I couldn’t even breathe,” remembers Richard. Doctors later diagnosed him with atrial fibrillation, warning him that he would die if he ever got a blood clot and informing him that he would one day need a pacemaker. All of this meant more pills to take with no relief in sight.

The Truth Will Set You Free!

After six years of back pain and two years of heart problems, along with recent arthritis flare-ups in both wrists, Richard wasn’t holding much hope for his future—all because he still believed his sickness might be part of God’s plan.

Then, just as quickly as darkness entered Richard’s physical body when he first injured his back, light entered his mind as he happened to catch part of a television program with his wife one day. Jacqueline stumbled across the God TV network, and by “chance,” the Gospel Truth program was airing. “Suddenly, I heard this weird-talking Texan preacher dude!” says Richard.

As they listened to Andrew that day, Jacqueline wondered why they had never been taught the Word in such a way at their church. She loved how Andrew talked about and explained the Scriptures. “I thought, Why don’t we read scriptures and then talk about them at our church?” says Jacqueline.

“The Bible says to know the truth, and it will set you free,” adds Richard. “We were being set free.”

Jacqueline began watching Andrew regularly, sharing with her husband what she had learned on the Gospel Truth when he came home from work. Together they learned about the God who loves them and has already provided for Richard’s healing and wholeness. It affirmed what they already knew deep down: God’s will was not for Richard to be sick but to be well.

As the Wallers continued to watch Andrew on God TV, they discovered that he would soon be in London. Richard couldn’t wait to go to the conference. “I went to the meetings expecting one thing—to be healed.”

Forever Changed

God does not disappoint. That night at the Gospel Truth Seminar, everything Andrew taught was about healing and using our authority as believers to speak directly to our bodies—exactly what the Wallers needed to hear. After the service, Richard literally ran to the front for healing, totally expecting God to move on his behalf.

Then-worship-leader Charlie LeBlanc was Richard’s prayer minister. “Charlie told me that all of my problems would not make the lights in heaven dim!” recalls Richard. “He said ‘There’s nothing too big for our God,’ then put his hand on my shoulder and started praying for me, speaking to every area that needed healing.”

As Charlie prayed, Richard stood in agreement with him, based on Matthew 18:19-20—“If two of you shall agree on earth as touching any thing that they shall ask,
Richard received his healing by faith and returned to his seat, fully confident that he was forever changed. Although he went to bed with pain that night, he was pain free in the morning. “I knew in my heart I was different,” he says. “The symptoms were just a distraction from the truth.”

Today Richard mountain bikes, sails, and is even part of a cycling team. “I have a new life because of the Word and because of Andrew bringing the Word to me. I am now completely healed; there’s nothing wrong with me,” declares Richard. “I no longer have limitations on my life…nothing’s going to stop me!”

Jacqueline is thrilled to have her healthy, active husband back. To Jacqueline, Richard is better than ever because Jesus is now the center of his life. The Wallers have been through the fire, but just like Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, all that burned up were the ropes that bound them—in this case, the ropes of religious thinking!”

In October 2013, Andrew headed Down Under for a series of meetings that kicked off in Victor Harbor and culminated in the Gold Coast. In both Victor Harbor and Melbourne, Andrew preached to packed-out churches where people had flown in from across Australia, New Zealand, India, Indonesia, and the South Sea Islands, in expectancy of the miraculous. God did not disappoint, as many were baptized in the Holy Spirit and healed both emotionally and physically.

After leaving Melbourne, Andrew headed to the Gold Coast to hold the first-ever Gospel Truth Seminar (GTS) in this magnificent area of Australia. The CBC Gold Coast team, Byron and Leesa Hamilton, David Carter, and Jessica Sharp, hosted the GTS at the Dream Centre, October 31-November 2. The team was concurrently in preparations to launch Australia’s first CBC, which opened its doors in February 2014.

CBC Gold Coast became a reality when the prayers of one man, Rod Smith, met with the faithful obedience of one couple, the Hamiltons, during the summer of 2010. It was then that Smith prayed fervently for God to bring a CBC to the Gold Coast area. Simultaneously, the Hamiltons were responding to the Lord’s call to move from Springfield, Missouri, to Colorado Springs to attend CBC Colorado. Little did they know that God was preparing them to be the answer to Smith’s prayer.

Andrew was encouraged as he met with Pastor Chad Mansbridge of Bayside Church International in Victor Harbor, who launched the first Charis Bible College (CBC) Co-op school in Australia in February 2014. This program will enable like-faith churches across Australia to host the first-year CBC program for local correspondence students and to open up the DVD instruction to other Christians, church members, and leaders. Pastor Andrew MaGrath of Hope City Church hosted the Melbourne meetings and will soon be incorporating various CBC correspondence courses into his church’s School of Ministry.

After graduating from CBC in 2012, the Hamiltons flew to Australia, Byron’s homeland, to visit his relatives along with Andrew Wommack Ministries (AWM) partners throughout the continent. When they arrived in the Gold Coast, they met Rod and Lisa Smith. The Hamiltons informed the Smiths that they were scouting the land for a good place for “someone” to develop a CBC in Australia—never thinking that “someone” was them!

Upon arriving back in Colorado to begin their third year at CBC, Leesa shared with classmates about her trip to Australia and the wonderful people of the Gold Coast. As she did, the Holy Spirit spoke to her heart about God’s plan for her and her husband. to be that “someone.” Once it was settled in the Hamiltons’ hearts that they would be returning to the Gold Coast to launch a CBC, they shared their news with the Smiths. But Rod already had some “inside” information about the new school. Two days before Rod received their phone call, God had told him to stop praying for a CBC Gold Coast because his prayer had already been answered.

GTS Makes Its Way to the Gold Coast

Andrew arrived early on opening night in order to personally thank the thirty-five prayer ministers who had generously volunteered to serve during the conference. The volunteer team consisted of local pastors, AWM partners, and ministry leaders with their teams. After spending time with the volunteers, Andrew was welcomed by a line of people that had already formed in anticipation of being prayed for and ministered to. After sharing stories of how AWM had changed their lives through radio and television, CDs and DVDs, books, and other resources, the crowd thanked Andrew for coming, letting him know they had waited many years for him to make his way to their area.

To Andrew’s pleasant surprise, nearly 600 people were on hand for each of the five sessions to hear the life-changing message of the Gospel. At the end of the services, people flooded to the altar to receive salvation, the baptism of the Holy Spirit, and miraculous healings. Eighty-seven people in all received the baptism of the Holy Spirit with the evidence of speaking in tongues, including ex-pastors and new believers alike. One woman, who had been trying to pray in tongues for twenty-two years, finally received her prayer language after hearing what the Bible teaches about the baptism in the Holy Spirit. She couldn’t believe how easy it really was to receive.

Receiving the message of grace and faith was a huge step for the Australian people, many of whom come from denominational and legalistic backgrounds. It was a fresh wind to many in attendance who had never heard God’s Word taught the way Andrew teaches it. One man admitted, “My wife didn’t want to come to the conference; she only came to spend time with me. After listening to the nearly-too-good-to-be-true news of grace, she was so excited that she went to the bookstore and bought books, CDs, and workbooks. She could hardly wait to get home to start studying. It was already changing her life.”

Even before the meetings ended, reports began streaming in from the prayer team of all sorts of healings, including an elderly woman’s hearing that was restored and a person incapacitated by fear who was delivered and set free. Many others were set free from depression and religious bondages as they heard the Good News for the very first time. And now, well after the meetings have concluded, Byron and Leesa Hamilton continue to receive reports from those who discovered they were healed of chronic conditions, such as fibromyalgia, arthritis, allergies, and more.

The hunger for God’s Word at the Gold Coast GTS didn’t end with the meetings. Over 200 people attended an informational session regarding CBC Gold Coast, resulting in preregistrations and interest cards being completed for possible attendance at the new Bible college.

As this article is being written, plans are already being made by the CBC Gold Coast team for another GTS Down Under. If the anticipation for a move of God is as great as it was at this GTS, it should be an exciting time!
On one ordinary day in 1997, Mark Bassett was listening to Christian radio in his home state of Texas. An unfamiliar man with the familiar accent of his home was preaching. “I had read books by John G. Lake and Watchman Nee before,” says Mark, “but Andrew Wommack was the only living person I had heard at that time who was teaching the true Gospel. The message of grace [he taught] really ministered to and blessed me.”

As a result of his chance radio encounter with Andrew, Mark began listening to the Gospel Truth radio program every day. Soon, he had heard Andrew mention the Bible college he’d founded in Colorado—at that time called Colorado Bible College but now called Charis Bible College (CBC). Mark told himself right then, “If I ever go to a Bible college, that’s the one it’ll be.” Mark reasoned that he wanted to go to CBC while it was still small because he knew “someday the school would grow much larger.”

As Mark continued to listen to Andrew and ponder the possibility of attending CBC, God made clear His plan for Mark and his wife, Tenese. “God told me that I could stay in Texas and continue to listen to Andrew’s radio broadcast, or I could accelerate the process and attend the college,” recalls Mark.

Mark and Tenese visited CBC on the way home from a vacation in 2000 and immediately began making plans to attend. “We put our house on the market, but it didn’t sell,” recalls Mark. He later discovered that this was simply God’s way of leading the Bassetts to walk by faith. In the spring of 2001, the CBC director called Mark and invited him and Tenese to attend an Expand Your Vision Weekend (now CBS Campus Days). It was during that weekend that the Bassetts knew they had to be at CBC—whether their house sold or not.

That very weekend, Mark and Tenese completed their application and paid the application fee. Within two weeks of returning home, they had an offer on their home. By that fall, they were living in Colorado and attending classes at CBC.

Destiny Found at CBC

Sitting under the leadership and teaching of the CBC staff changed Mark and Tenese forever. “Although we were married in a wonderful Spirit-filled church, there were some important foundational pieces missing in the doctrine we were taught,” explains Mark. “For example, we never were taught about faith-righteousness or our identity in Christ. Because of this, for many years our Christian walk was based more on a works-righteousness philosophy, which kept us from experiencing the grace of God.” The teaching they received at CBC helped them to know and understand the complete and true Gospel of Jesus Christ, and it taught them how to live in His unconditional love and grace.

“One of the most significant teachings for Tenese was Andrew’s True Nature of God,” continues Mark.
“This teaching opened her heart to learn to trust God in a way she never had before. She began a journey of having an intimate relationship with a loving God, rather than seeing Him as faultfinding and judgmental.”

After graduating from CBC, the Bassetts had several ministry opportunities open up for them. Their initial path became evident when CBC’s director asked Mark if he and Tenese would consider moving to Chicago to launch a CBC extension school. After praying, the Bassetts believed this was God’s will for them, and they became directors of CBC Chicago in May 2003.

The summer leading up to the school’s opening was filled with administrative and logistical details to ensure the school opened smoothly and on time. The Bassetts worked to secure a location and purchase equipment, and then they advertised and proactively contacted prospective students—all the while walking by faith that there would actually be students in the seats when the doors opened. To their pleasant surprise, forty of those seats were filled when school started.

Returning to Colorado

After four years at the helm at CBC Chicago, Mark and Tenese relinquished their directorship to Cindy Quarles, a CBC Chicago graduate. Mark had had it in his heart to return to Colorado and work with CBC World Outreach, helping to grow the ever-increasing number of extension schools. Their chance to return to Colorado didn’t come as quickly as they had planned, however, and they remained in Chicago until 2012.

“During those years of waiting, we continued to experience God’s favor in so many ways,” says Mark. “Looking back, we see why God had us planted there for that season. We just continued to hold up the prophecies that were spoken over us to encourage ourselves in what we believed God called us to do. We knew if we continued to simply believe, He would bring them to pass.”

In the spring of 2012, their wait was over, and the Bassetts returned to Colorado Springs, where Mark was offered a staff position with World Outreach. Today he is the administrative director for that ministry, which serves and supports all forty CBC extension schools, a number which continues to grow.

Working with the directors of the international extension schools, Mark is able to apply his firsthand knowledge to the challenges they are experiencing, helping to ensure their success as directors. In addition to his directorship duties, Mark also instructs the extension-school training in the third-year ministry elective track.

The CBC ‘Tribe’

Mark and Tenese are passionate about CBC, not just because of what it’s done for them, but also because of what they see it doing for graduates throughout the world. “CBC will absolutely change your life,” says Mark emphatically. “It will establish a proper foundation upon which God can build the rest of your life. I wouldn’t be where I am today without going through CBC. It was necessary in order to change my thinking and prepare my heart to begin to walk out my destiny.”

Mark likens CBC to being part of a “tribe,” or family. “In the Old Testament, the people of Israel belonged to one of the twelve tribes,” he explains. “In much the same way, we belong to the tribe of CBC, where Andrew Wommack is the patriarch of that tribe. We feel blessed to have such a rich heritage.”

One of the most significant things Mark believes that he and Tenese have experienced, both as students and staff of CBC, is the feeling that Andrew truly believes in them. “In the early years, Andrew would say, ‘Have faith in the faith that God has in you,’” remembers Mark. “That brought us courage in times when we felt so inadequate for what God had called us to do.

“We feel so very blessed to have been given the opportunity to start the school in Chicago. We look back on our time there as the most fulfilling time of our lives. Nothing compares to being in the center of God’s will, and like Andrew says, ‘God never serves dessert first.’ We look forward to what the Lord has for us here in Colorado, where we can be a blessing to our CBC family.”

GT
Chris Bratton

Chris had believed in Jesus since he was a young boy, but it wasn’t until spending time in jail that he truly received Jesus as his Savior. After being arrested four times in six months—on alcohol- and drug-related charges—Chris lost his driving privileges for five years and spent a month and a half in jail. While incarcerated, he turned to Jesus and asked Him to help him overcome his struggles with substance abuse. Of course, He did.

When Chris’s mentor mentioned CBC, Chris visited the website and sensed the Lord leading him to attend. Every time he went to the site, the Holy Spirit seemed to flood his body, and he considered moving to Colorado. While still contemplating the move, Chris and some friends attended Andrew’s 2010 Gospel Truth Seminar in Atlanta. At the GTS, one of Chris’s friends paid for his CBC registration.

Chris’s first two years at CBC fueled a growing passion he had for street ministry. “The Word that was planted during my first year amplified the way I was able to communicate with people,” says Chris. The Lord used Isaiah 61:1 to call him into ministry. “This verse has come alive in me and given me a heart for people. I was a drug addict for ten years, and I have been released. Now I can release others through lots of love. I get to demonstrate God’s love to the world, just like Jesus,” Chris explains.

Since his graduation from CBC, Chris has taken his revelation of God’s unconditional love for him and now ministers to any and all who will listen. For the past several years, he has been ministering on the weekends late at night in downtown Colorado.
Mary’s thinking, up until that point in her life, had limited her view on what God could do with and through her. “I was completely wrong,” Mary says. “Praise God, my two years at CBC got me out of the box and exposed me to the unlimited power of God, which works through all His children who are willing, trusting, and obeying what He tells them to do, regardless of their backgrounds. CBC switched the light bulb on!”

Mary’s time at CBC helped her understand the call on her life, and it led her to begin Bird of Paradise Ministries Rwanda, which provides, under one roof, all the basic necessities for the homeless in Rwanda. She now finds fulfillment in providing food, clothing, clean water, health care, personal hygiene, social interaction, dignity and, of course, spiritual guidance to those who may otherwise be overlooked.

Consider the ravens: for they neither sow nor reap; which neither have storehouse nor barn; and God feedeth them: how much more are ye better than the fowls?

Luke 12:24

MARY MUNYANGAжу

Mary’s heart was filled with excitement when she learned that two CBC Colorado graduates were opening a campus in Belfast, Ireland. She felt that God had opened an extension school just for her, since the new location proved to be a manageable commute, allowing her to attend and still meet all of her obligations.

During her two years at CBC, Mary realized the potential and power that God had poured into her to minister to the elderly. She had always had ministry to the elderly on her heart, particularly the people of Rwanda, but because of her childhood, she had a distorted perspective of this type of missionary work. In her eyes, mission work was only for wealthy, well-educated Westerners. Mary’s thinking, up until that point in her life, had limited her view on what God could do with and through her.

“I was completely wrong,” Mary says. “Praise God, my two years at CBC got me out of the box and exposed me to the unlimited power of God, which works through all His children who are willing, trusting, and obeying what He tells them to do, regardless of their backgrounds. CBC switched the light bulb on!”

The Spirit of the Lord God is upon me; because the Lord hath anointed me to preach good tidings unto the meek; he hath sent me to bind up the brokenhearted, to proclaim liberty to the captives, and the opening of the prison to them that are bound.

Isaiah 61:1

LEVI CRAWFORD

Levi once professed to be an atheist, and he wasn’t passive about his denial of God’s existence. Instead, he purposely persecuted Christians—he hated them. He remembers taking religion classes in high school for the sole purpose of learning how to undermine what the Christians around him believed. He loved to provoke believers to the point of questioning their own faith. However, in his late teens, Levi encountered the God he didn’t believe existed and his life was radically changed.

After his encounter with God, Levi began serving the ministry through which he was born again. He grew in the Word and started to host Bible studies in his apartment while in college. During this time, he felt a strong desire rise up in his heart to start a church. Unsure whether it was a prompt from the Lord or his own thought, he put the idea aside.

As Levi was getting ready to graduate, he realized his time had come. He shared with his family the idea the Lord had placed in his heart years earlier, and they helped him launch Fountain of Faith Church. As the church was getting off the ground, the Lord was revealing to Levi the balance between grace and faith. Levi began to see that God had provided everything for the believer but that the believer needed faith to access the provision. As he got a hold of this truth, he did a search on the internet to see if anyone else had ever taught on the topic. That was when Levi came across Andrew’s website and his teaching, Living in the Balance of Grace & Faith. What Levi heard exploded in his heart, and he understood more fully his position in Christ. Levi devoured Andrew’s materials, deepening his revelation. With each teaching series that Levi listened to, the fruit of his own ministry grew. Listening to God Wants You Well broadened his understanding of God’s willingness and eagerness to heal and the fullness of salvation.

Through Andrew’s teaching, Levi has grown to know God more intimately, and he now effortlessly flourishes in his role as a pastor. Once a self-declared enemy of God, Levi now embraces the fullness of Jesus Christ one revelation at a time. “I cannot speak enough about how thankful I am for AWM. It has changed my heart and, in turn, changed the hearts of my congregation. It’s amazing for me to think of the influence and the lives changed by AWM. Down here, in Southwest Florida, there is a church that has been impacted beyond words,” Levi shared.

> By whom also we have access by faith into this grace wherein we stand, and rejoice in hope of the glory of God.

Romans 5:2

These are just a few examples illustrating the power of your partnership. Your faithful giving allows Andrew to continue to expand his teaching ministry through both CBC and AWM. This, in turn, is making a difference in the lives of countless people and allowing a supernatural flow of God’s divine prosperity through you. Thank you! GT

FALL TERM BEGINS AT OUR MAIN CAMPUS ON SEPTEMBER 2, 2014
Charis Bible College (CBC) recently celebrated the grand opening of the first building at the school’s new campus in Woodland Park, Colorado. Constructed on a picturesque piece of property named The Sanctuary, the facility is a testament to a decision Andrew made twelve years ago to take the limits off God. The 72,000-square-foot structure, affectionately called The Barn, was miraculously erected debt free and now serves as home to the school’s ever-increasing student body. The new building, while grand in stature, is simply a tool to be used to fulfill the call on Andrew’s life to make disciples. Having taken the Apostle Paul’s instruction to his protégé, Timothy, in 2 Timothy 2:2 as his own, Andrew will be able to impart what he has learned to a growing community of faithful believers at The Barn.

On March 22, 2014, following the conclusion of CBC’s annual Campus Days, which brought together 577 potential students from across the country and beyond, a Grand Opening community celebration was held at The Barn. The new campus, a culmination of four-and-a-half years of planning and hard work, marks a new beginning full of unlimited, life-changing potential. The Woodland Park campus is the third Colorado location since the school’s inception in 1994, but it is the first that the ministry has built from the ground up.

Despite the snow and slippery conditions, Andrew and Jamie warmly welcomed 686 guests, who were willing to brave the spring storm in order to attend the eventful evening. Many were introduced to CBC and its mission—to equip faithful men and women for the work of the ministry—for the first time. Attendees were treated to a tour of the new building, and then they enjoyed refreshments and fellowship before the program began.

Daniel Amstutz and the CBC Worship Team held nothing back as they played powerful praise and worship music, including a brand-new song written very early that same morning by one of the worship leaders, Marcia Alverson. Daniel and the team performed several songs from their first CD/DVD album, The Best Is Yet to Come, which was released on March 18, 2014. The audience enjoyed the music almost as much as the worship team enjoyed leading it; their adoration for the Lord was contagious.

Following praise and worship, Andrew offered welcoming remarks to those in attendance and those observing via the internet. Several extension schools from around the world held their own grand opening celebrations. CBC Argentina and CBC Ireland, and stateside schools in Chicago, Florida, Arizona, North Carolina, Texas, and California each gathered to watch the event online.

Andrew also shared a quick summary of how his ministry began and how on March 23, 1968, he had a miraculous encounter with God. Before this encounter, he had prayed, “God, reveal Yourself to me and show me what You want to do with my life.” He encouraged those in the audience that talking to God is just that simple.

Andrew expressed his gratitude to God, his partners, his staff, and many other key individuals who’d helped make the building project a reality. He then introduced his sister, brother, and sister-in-law, who were on hand for the event. After speaking about plans for future community events to be held at CBC, Andrew shared some interesting facts about dirt. Yes, dirt.

The entire first phase of construction required the hauling of 350,000 yards of dirt and 5,641 yards of concrete. Since those numbers may not mean much to most, Andrew provided an example to illustrate what that amount of dirt would look like. He said that the quantity of dirt that was moved at The Sanctuary was... enough to cover an entire football field, end zone to end zone, at a depth of 199 feet. Now, that is impressive. Much of the dirt moved was excavated in preparation for the second phase of the construction project, which is slated to begin shortly.

Gary Luecke, the director of CBC Colorado, also addressed the audience. He thanked the community of Woodland Park for being gracious and welcoming. “The friendliest community here in Colorado is Woodland Park,” Gary said. He then went on to express his appreciation for his staff and highlighted the extensive growth the school has experienced over the past several years. Today more than 5,000 individuals are being discipled at CBC worldwide.

Perhaps the most poignant portion of the evening came when Andrew directed the audience to view a video testimony that shared the history of The Sanctuary property. Gilbert S. Jackson purchased the 157-acre property in 1990. Three years later, on Gilbert’s seventy-fourth birthday, he was in bed suffering from the effects of cancer. While his nighttime nurse’s aide, Merline Harrison, did her best to comfort him, she told him that he was only missing one thing in his life. As a man of wealth, his eyes opened wide in clear wonder of what he could possibly have missed. Merline shared Christ with Gilbert, and in the moments that followed, he was born again. Gilbert said he “saw Jesus in the doorway,” and the experience was so tangible to him that it noticeably changed him. In the days that followed, Gilbert could hardly contain his happiness. He told his daughter, Debbie Jackson Littlestar, that following his death, he wanted his properties to be used for Christian education. Gilbert even shared a dream that he had for the property where CBC now sits. He imagined a school with glass walls so that the students could feel like they were outside while learning, which “happens” to be just like The Barn!

Following the video, Andrew shared some significant details about seeing God bring this project together through multiple people. It was June 1993 when Gilbert received Jesus. That was very close to the same time that God spoke to Andrew about starting a Bible college. “This is a God thing. God ordered this,” Andrew said. He went on to emphasize that it was one person’s faithfulness that began the process of thousands of lives being transformed.

If the video wasn’t enough to touch every heart in the room, then Andrew’s next introduction surely was. He announced that Gilbert’s nurse, Merline, was in attendance and seated in the front row along with her daughter, Delores Harrison Clark. After a thunderous round of applause, Andrew thanked Merline and honored her with a lovely bouquet of flowers. What a moment it must have been for Merline to realize the fruit of her seemingly small act of faithfulness and the hope of the countless lives that will be transformed through CBC. After the program, students waited in line to greet and thank her personally. Merline graciously spoke with each one.

It is safe to say that those who came to celebrate the goodness and faithfulness of God, as well as those who came only out of curiosity, truly enjoyed the evening. Third-year, events intern Lisa Cree was exceptionally pleased with the dedicated staff and volunteers who made the evening special: “It was an amazing Campus Days and Grand Opening event weekend, despite the snow and ice storm. For every slice of cake that was served, every car that was parked, every sidewalk that was shoveled, every person that was greeted with a smile, someone’s life was being impacted.”

The size and scope of the project, and the fact that it was completed debt free, are a testimony to God’s faithfulness. Many Woodland Park residents left the event happy to have CBC as their new neighbor. If you weren’t able to join us in person, be sure to visit our website to watch the Grand Opening celebration online.

What would you say about a Bible software program that contained over 18,000 of Andrew’s personal notes and commentary on more than half of all the verses in the Bible? Andrew calls his Living Commentary Bible program “the best-kept secret in [his] entire ministry.”

Living Commentary is a high-tech version of Andrew’s original Life for Today, which began over twenty-five years ago as a verse-by-verse study of the Scriptures. Originally, Life for Today only included Andrew’s notes for the four Gospels and was published as a 600-page hardback book. Over the course of many years, Andrew expanded his notes and commentary to include Acts through Colossians as well. Upon launching the Gospel Truth program on television in 2000, Andrew chose to discontinue production of Life for Today, but he continued researching and writing footnotes for Bible verses.

Then, six years ago, Andrew had the idea to write additional commentary on these personal study notes. The resulting Living Commentary is a merger of the original (and subsequently updated) Life for Today notes and Andrew’s recent commentaries. Andrew chose to call this new program Living Commentary because he is still actively writing it. In fact, he averages roughly 125 new Bible verse notes each month, along with adding updates or edits to preexisting notes. It will typically take Andrew one hour of research and writing for each new verse he adds. Some verses, however, have literally taken him years to properly and thoroughly research.

For all of this time, effort, and Holy Spirit-inspired revelation, Andrew believes that the Living Commentary is “the best [tool] I have to help people get into the Word of God.” Andrew is particularly excited about his ability to use the software program to clearly present sometimes hard-to-follow historical events from the Bible. Through the program, he can place events in chronological order to help users better understand the history of the people and places in the Bible.

Additionally, biblical prophecies are joined with the people and events surrounding them to help users clearly see how and when the prophecies came to pass. An Old Testament prophecy, for example, can be instantly linked to its New Testament manifestation, providing a valuable study tool for those using the program.

Andrew Wommack Ministries’ (AWM) Computer Department Manager Stan Priest—who has worked for Andrew for nearly twenty-five years—has provided the technical expertise for this project. The software itself is issued by a third-party company, but all of the technical interfacing with AWM and the integration of Andrew’s new notes are provided by Stan and his staff. Each month, the new notes, and updates to existing notes, are merged into the Living Commentary program. Before any changes are made, however, the notes are thoroughly proofed for grammar, spelling, and accuracy of facts, Scripture references, and so forth.

The Living Commentary software program comes standard with 3 different Bible versions (King James Version, American Standard Version, and Young’s Literal Translation), Andrew’s commentary, 3 other commentaries (Matthew Henry’s Concise, Adam Clarke’s, and Barnes’ Notes on the New Testament), 5 dictionaries, 2 topical cross references, maps, photos, and theological/historical references. Stan Priest calls the Living Commentary an “expandable program” because subscribers may add additional resources and tools—including Greek and Hebrew study guides, over 70 more Bible versions, 50 dictionaries, and 800 commentaries—directly from the software provider.

One feature of the Living Commentary that users find particularly helpful is the instant availability of resources for learning about Greek and Hebrew words. By simply “mousing” over the Greek or Hebrew word, the user can instantly access its transliteration, the origin of its root word, cross-referenced verses, its part of speech, and other notes, such as how many times it is used in the Bible, its definition, and other valuable information. Additionally, each Greek and Hebrew word is phonetically spelled out—and even audibly pronounced with a click of the mouse!

Because Andrew is continually editing and expanding the Living Commentary program, new monthly updates are always available. Users can easily download these free updates from within the software program or from the AWM website. Also free with the program purchase is the online version of Living Commentary. This mobile-friendly website allows Andrew’s Bible commentary to be read on any device with a web browser. It’s a great way to read Andrew’s notes on the go or from a computer that doesn’t have the Living Commentary software installed.

Andrew is excited about the tools that the Living Commentary provides to users, enabling them to “hear from God through the Scriptures on their own without having to rely on any other teacher.” He is confident that the program can “speed up understanding of the Word and the ability to gain insight from the Word…it’s like Miracle-Gro to a plant!”
To learn more about this valuable and exciting software program, watch Andrew and Stan Priest on The Inside Story at www.awmi.net/extras/inside_story/episode10. For system requirements, product features, or to order the Living Commentary, go to www.awmi.net/lc.

The Living Commentary is “the best tool I have to help people get into the Word of God” — Andrew

Kneeling beside my bed one day in 1968, I began to pray, “Lord, what do I have to do to get from where I am to where You want me to be?” I opened my eyes, and as I saw my Bible laying on the bed in front of me, I heard the Lord say, “Just put My Word in your heart, and it will do the rest.”

My whole life and ministry are the product of meditating on God’s Word. Any good thing in my life or ministry can be traced back to how God’s Word has changed me. I believe it’s the same for you. In the natural world, everything revolves around seed, time, and harvest. It’s the same in the spiritual world. God’s Word is the seed that, given time, produces a harvest.

I am so excited to offer you my Living Commentary. This is a digital commentary on the Bible. I’ve spent nearly forty-six years studying the Word of God day and night, and this commentary is the most comprehensive approach I’ve ever had to sharing the truths the Lord has shown me.

The Word is a seed that contains the very life of God. When it’s planted in your heart and left there, it will release that life. The only effort on your part is to take the time and make the effort to plant the seed. This Living Commentary is to Bible study as “Miracle-Gro” is to plants. I guarantee it will accelerate your understanding of the Scriptures.

I find it strange that so many people today seem to thrive on tragedy and choose to live in fear and darkness. The simple truth is, God is for us. When we focus on the doom and gloom facing us individually or as a nation, it’s easy to lose sight of this truth, yet Paul wrote in Philippians 4:4 to “rejoice in the Lord alway: and again I say, Rejoice.”

I was reading an article recently that provided a list of fifty reasons that this is the greatest period in world history. Life expectancy topped the list. Just one hundred years ago, the average person living in America died at age fifty-one. Today in our country, people don’t retire from their jobs until they are sixty-two. Just think: the “golden years” didn’t exist for our ancestors.

Life, in general, is easier for the majority of us today. We’ve got computers that do much of our thinking. Our lives and businesses are highly dependent on modern technology. Popular Mechanics magazine published an article in 1949 predicting the possibility that someday a computer could weigh as little as 1.5 tons. This was a big deal, since the average computer back then weighed thirty tons. Today we’ve got more computing power in our smartphones than all of NASA had when it put a man on the moon in 1969. What a blessing it is that we’re not carrying around one-and-a-half tons in our back pockets!

Speaking of phones, back when the first transcontinental telephone line was established by AT&T in 1915, it cost $20.70 for a three-minute phone call from New York to San Francisco. Adjusted for inflation, that’s $157 a minute! We have access to unlimited talk and text for under $50 per month today.

Wars and rumors of wars dominate media headlines regularly, but I think it’s worth mentioning that back in 1945, the general population was under the impression that another nuclear weapons attack was inevitable. Much to the surprise of many, no one has died from an atomic bomb since the final stages of World War II. There is no denying that there is unrest in many parts of the world today, but praise God, we have not had a nuclear war. It could have been much worse.

Of course, the economy is also an issue on many people’s minds these days. In the U.S., we hear about impending economic collapse, the national debt, raising the debt ceiling, interest rates, and on and on. We’re constantly being bombarded with tax increases, higher gas and oil prices—even the cost of food is on the rise. It’s no surprise that when people focus on these things, they start panicking about how they’re going to provide for their families. But we’re not as bad off as the media and others want us to believe.

In 2010, it was reported that a person only needed to earn an annual income of $34,000 a year to be among the richest 1 percent of the world’s population. I’m sure that’s hard to believe for some. What it boils down to is that some of our country’s poorest are among the world’s richest. It’s been said before, but it bears repeating: We don’t have a revenue problem in this country; we have a spending problem.

I’m not denying there are issues facing us as a country today, and I know we all have our individual difficulties, but Jesus told us in John 14:1,
Let not your heart be troubled: ye believe in God, believe also in me.

The truth is, our circumstances will never outweigh what God has done for us. The same power that raised Jesus from the dead is on the inside of us (Eph. 1:19-20). God has promised to supply our needs (Phil. 4:19). When we put our faith in Him, we have reason to rejoice!

Psalm 91:7 says,

A thousand shall fall at thy side, and ten thousand at thy right hand; but it shall not come nigh thee.

Protection, provision, health, and wholeness belong to us as believers. He’s given us promise after promise. The Scripture says the whole earth is full of the glory of the Lord (Is. 6:3). God’s got a plan for each of us that is better than we can imagine. Nothing in this world can compare to God’s promises to us.

You know, there’s a song that says that as we turn our eyes upon Jesus, the things of this earth will grow strangely dim in the light of His glory and grace. We need to have our eyes fixed on Him and what He’s promised. Here is a verse to help you do that:

For I know the thoughts that I think toward you, saith the Lord, thoughts of peace, and not of evil, to give you an expected end.

Jeremiah 29:11

Don’t fall for the lies of the Enemy. Fix your eyes on Jesus and count your blessings. You are living in great times. Rejoice! GT

MANY WILL BE SAVED
That if thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus, and shalt believe in thine heart that God hath raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saved.

ROMANS 10:9

MANY WILL BE FILLED WITH THE SPIRIT
And there appeared unto them cloven tongues like as of fire, and it sat upon each of them. [4] And they were all filled with the Holy Ghost, and began to speak with other tongues, as the Spirit gave them utterance.

ACTS 2:3-4

MANY WILL BE HEALED
He withdrew himself from thence: and great multitudes followed him [Jesus], and he healed them all.

Andrew and Jamie’s Annual Ministers’ Conference: A Time of Encouragement and Renewal for your Pastor

A pastor’s job can be at once rewarding and exhausting, and many could benefit from a time of refreshing and renewal. Andrew and Jamie will host their annual Ministers’ Conference, September 29-October 3, this year at The Sanctuary. This event promises to provide much-needed encouragement from a terrific line-up of experienced pastors who desire to impart to those on the frontlines of ministry.

Perhaps you could send your pastor or another friend who is in full- or part-time vocational ministry? They’ll be blessed!

Guest speakers will include regulars, Pastor Bob Nichols and Pastor Bob Yandian, and—new this year—Pastor Duane Sheriff and Dr. Creflo Dollar. These gifted speakers, coupled with the autumn beauty and peaceful surroundings of Woodland Park, are sure to bless and encourage all who attend.

Special times of fellowship are set aside for attendees to get to know each other in a relaxed environment. Among the items on the schedule of events this year is the 11th Annual Grace or Faith Golf Tournament, which will be held on Tuesday, September 30 (registration required). And on Wednesday, October 1, we’ll have our Colorado Barbecue Cookout (registration is required). These events are always packed with fantastic fellowship and lots of laughs. Make plans now for your pastor to come and enjoy this week of renewal and refreshment.

“I believe these dynamic ministers are going to make this our greatest conference in the thirty-plus years we’ve been hosting this event. Jamie and I invite you to join us. You don’t want to miss it!”

—Andrew
